“ I went to school with Angie at Maryville College. She was a amazing, funny, smart, and hardworking lady. She loved her family and friends fiercely. She was one of those people that you meet and never forget. We had so much fun tooling through the mountains in my ancient car.

She was an amazing friend and a great study partner. We went on a scuba trip to the Virgin Islands. She got so excited about the exotic fish. Everywhere she went she made everything a ton more fun. I will miss her terribly.

“ I had the pleasure of meeting Angie for a brief time when she became my neighbor. She was such a sweet lady. I wish so much we could've had more time getting to know each other. My heart breaks for her beautiful sisters that were always here for her. Praying for you all, God bless.

“ Angela exemplified warmth and resilience, radiating joy and vitality wherever she went. Her luminous smile illuminated every room, and her gentle laughter and Southern drawl made her greeting, 'Good morning, how are you?' a sincere refrain. With a remarkable gift for uplifting others, Angela's words inspired positivity and hope in her coworkers and those she cared for. Her selfless love and generosity were boundless, touching countless lives without expectation of reward. To us, she was affectionately known as Angie, a radiant presence whose impact will be deeply missed. Rest in peace, dear friend. Until we meet again in heaven.

“ Angie was one of my dearest friends for 46 years. We shared a bond that miles couldn't hinder, "sisters from another mister" we would both say. Angie loved coffee more than anyone i have ever known :) We used to "cook" at her house when we were little, im surprised Mrs. Barbara allowed it. A big mess for unbeatable concoctions. Some of the best times of my life. I loved Angie so much and I am so thankful to have been able to visit her just a few weeks ago. She would light up a room with her smile. Rest in peace my sister from another mister <3
