“ I was saddened to read of the loss of your loved one. When we lose our loved one in death it is the most difficult time in our life. However, there is loving comfort in Psalms 55:22 to “throw your burden on God and he will sustain you..” Yes, no matter what you are facing God is there to help you get through it. May you continue to have the love and support from family and friends. I sincerely hope that this Bible message brings you a measure of comfort during this difficult time.

“ There's quite a few memories I have for the short time I've been a part of this family, but the ones that stand out at this moment is every time he seen me he would hold his hands up and say "calm down just calm down" then hug me. It was just something he would do at the time I would laugh. I think it was because I wasn't saying much and he wanted to start up a conversation with me. When I first met Corey, I felt like the only one I needed to win over was Papa, but in the end it turned out he loved me just like I loved him and the rest of this wonderful family. In the short time we had with him, he took Jase as his own grandchild. I remeber just a few weeks a ago, Jase was in a wild mood and he kept running through the house, I kept getting on to him and he wouldn't listen. Finally he ran up on Nanna and almost made her fall so of course he got in trouble. I took him in the bathroom and when he came out crying, Papa called his name and sat him in his lap and gave him candy!! Just like any Papa would do in that situation of course! We will always hold these memories in our hearts.
