“ I have been working every other weekend at Floyd Medical Center for 9 years. Every Sunday morning I would see Rev. David and Mrs. Bettie come into the hospital together and go to the 6th floor chapel for service. Such a loving and caring couple. I just found out today of Mrs. Bettie's passing when I saw Rev. David come into the hospital alone. I know something was wrong when Mrs. Bettie was not with him. So sorry to hear of her passing. My thoughts and prayers are with Rev. David and his family. Through these 9 years I have seen many elderly couples come in for lunch or to see someone. And along those years I have seen one of them return alone. I can only hope that my husband and I can grow old together and be as loving and caring as many of these couples have!

Thank you so much for your thoughtful message, Pam. I came with my father one Sunday recently. Now he has a new concern and needs our prayers.

“Debbie, JoAnna, and Uncle David, I am so sorry for your loss. Aunt Bettie was so sweet and kind and loving to all. My fond memories are of her sharing her mission stories with us when she came home on furlough from Africa. I do know how excited we all got when we would see one of those blue airmail envelopes in our mail box. We knew Aunt Bettie would have more adventures to tell us. My thoughts and prayers are with you all as you go through this sadness rght now. I am so happy that we can rejoice one day when we are joined with those we love who have gone before us! Love you all!

(My mother Ruth, sure did love her baby sister and used to tell us stories about taking care of her when she was little)

“ My mother never talked much about her own challenges and struggles. But every day she had a time to talk with her heavenly Father. No doubt, that was sufficient for her, and that is where her joy, strength and beauty came from, her encouragement for others, and ability to keep supporting my father as they served others together. She had her consistent routines with early morning devotions. When we stopped briefly by their house last Monday (shortly after Jesus had lovingly taken her), I noticed her Bible and other devotional materials stacked by her chair in the living room (including a book related to suffering and The Helping Hand study book and a folder with petition for Barnabas Aid (related to persecution) that she had people sign at church on the same day she had her stroke!

“ Trudy and I send our condolences to the family and know that Bettie has gone to a better place. For anyone to give so many years in missionary work shows her love for Jesus and His calling. May she rest in peace until He returns..
