“ Bradley was a sweet guy always. I remember when he got his first bb gun and he was showing me. Diane was in the kitchen cooking and we stepped outside. He shot in the tree and a bird fell out. Neither of us had seen the bird and he was so surprised. It was like a Denis the menace moment and he almost cried (so funny that he became such a avid hunter-but we were just little). He said "Oh my goodness we cant let her see it! So we hurried and he got the bird, I dug the hole and until now-no one ever knew and We never spoke about it again lol. Sorry Diane. He was a gift to his family from the time he was born. I love him and I will carry his memory and that love until my last breath. He will be missed. I wish so badly we could have been there today. I will be praying for the kids, Diane, Alan, Steph, Amanda and the rest of our family.
