“ Chuck, or "Charlie" as I always called him from our childhood, was my "little brother." Time, distance, and family situations made it hard for us to connect that often. But when we did, there was always lots of laughing and silly memories. From the time he was a toddler he loved cars and trucks. We would always find him outside, playing with his Tonka trucks and tractors, plowing through the dirt and making those "motor noises" as little boys do. So of course he grew up to race cars and drive trucks. Now he has gone to be with our Mom and Dad. But he will remain in my heart always, as my little brother.
