“ Mom I know why you loved yellow, & Butterflies, yellow is vibrant and makes you smile full of life. A butterfly Even if part of it's wings is torn he can still fly free That's what you was looking for You're entire life I know I finally got out of mine I meant I would never live a life like my mother did. I understand a lot of what I didn't earlier in my life. Sometimes We don't know what to waste to make so we don't make one sometimes that's not the best thing Believe me I went to a place I didn't know a soul. But I love the Lord and I put him first in my life That's why I decided I had to live alone I've lived in enough hell I'm not dying to go there. Mom I know you can't read this But I love you and miss you dearly... Ahold a lot of fond memories of you. My two boys love their grandmother dearly.

“ I loved my mother dearly, I miss just being able to call and talk to her. I know my mother would not be pleased how things were handled.

I am so glad We gave her, her 80th birthday party with her friends, I will hold very precious memories of my mother... I love all my brothers and sisters regardless of how they feel about me. I don't have to answer to anyone but GOD.... I had the flu & couldn't go to my mom's funeral. But I showed her that I loved her DEARLY. Anita your baby girl.

Don't judge my son for not going, people grieve their own way.

How what things were handled. ? That my dad paid for everything so she could be where she wanted to rest. The way I see it. She waited for her daughter's to come see her. And they never did. And none of them show up for her funeral. Funny,how she passes. Then the daughter s come out. One already went to the grave site twice since she been gone. But couldn't come see her when she was still with us. As for the way things were handled it was all what grandma wanted. And none of yall would know that cause you haven't been around. So in less you been around or helped pay for any part of the funeral I dont think you opinion damn matters.

“ My grandma was the sweetest lady ever. Ever time I would come over to visit her. I would always ask if she would make her biscuits and sausage gravey. And she would always say yes. So I would stop and get everything she needed . As she got older. I would visit her at the nursing room. She would ask me (Amy do you remember when you would come see me. You would ask me to make biscuits and gravey. I says yes gram and they were the best in the world). And she would say No they weren't. And we would have a little arguement. Then start laughing . She loved to cook. She was always in the kitchen. I will miss and love her forever.I love and miss you gram.
