“ Our children grew up, going to Miss Martha’s house all the time to get ice cream. They loved visiting her. If we couldn’t find them, we knew they were at her house.

“ Catherine Elizabeth Brown here (daughter to Ron Gardner) I met her when I was 10 years old and she welcomed me and my dad and my three brothers into her home whenever we came over. I spent alot of time there on the river during the summer and long weekends. And she always had treats in her freezer for us to grab. My dad eventually bought the lot next to her house and built his own house and made it his mission in life to buy her groceries when she couldn't get out anymore. She always gave the best hugs.

“ Martha was the best mother in law. Her love of sitting at the dinning table watching the sun rise and set over the water was so special. Fishing with her was always so special cause you knew we would have fried fish that night. She will be truly missed but always in my heart.
