“ My grandmother was such a sweet caring woman that loved each and every one of her grandchildren. I can remember many countless sleepovers at grannies that were so much fun! We would sneak into her laundry room and take sheets out to the huge magnolia tree and make hammocks, oh she would be so worried about us climbing up that tree! One memory I loved and cherish was baking in the kitchen with her. I loved her showing us how to make peanut butter balls for the holidays! I know granny is in a better place without any pain or sadness. She is with her husband watching over us.

“ Most loving wife, mother, grandmother and friend. She was definitely one of a kind, and the best mother and grandmother to me and my three sons. We will miss her terribly, but I thank the Good Lord above that she is no longer in pain. She was always willing to take time out for you no matter what she had going on in her daily life. She took pride in everything she did in life whether it was cooking a fabulous meal, gardening, working at her beauty shop or flowershop. There wasn't to much she couldn't do, when she made her mind up to do it.

She made German potato salad that was basically famous in our family and friends that had the opportunity to taste it. The last time she made it I helped her out or I thought I was helping her. She was at our house in Tennessee and we were cutting it short on time for our dinner to be ready. I noticed that it was taking a long time to prepare it, so I offered to help her out to rush the process. Mom was cutting the potatoes in perfect little cubes. I said mom can't I just chop them up? She said no! You can't.... This is the way you have to cut the potatoes. I then said mom, when we stir or mix the other ingredients no one will notice if they are not cut onto perfect little square pieces. Well to say the least that I learned something about my mother that I never knew about her before. If your going to do something, to do it with all your heart and that to this day made a huge impression on me to do all you can and if your doing it unto the Lord. She also loved each and everyone of her children and grandchildren, most of them have her talent of art, cooking and gardening. She will be remembered in our memories of her. Even in her last days she could not see them as much as she would like. But I know in my heart we will see her one day in heaven. Love you mom with all my heart ❤️💕
