“ Aunt Sheila set Brent and me up. She kept saying that Stevie worked with somebody that I needed to meet. We went to a singing at Skyline, and she got him to come over there, and she flagged me down to come over there. When she introduced us, we started talking and we never stopped. We were talking over her because she was in the middle, and finally she moved so that we could talk. We dated on her her sofa. And now we've been married nearly 7 years.
