“ I can still hear her sweet voice, hear that little giggle & see the slight glimmer of mischief in her eyes as she'd take a French fry from your plate. I know she's with loved ones now. We'll be with them one day.

“ Our beautiful sweet angel we sure do miss you! I know it has been six years but at times it seems like yesterday and then like an eternity! We sure wouldn't call you back but sure would love to just talk with you! The kids are growing up and Blakely is the age you were when the good Lord gave you the Holy Ghost and Lucas still has break downs over you but I told him it was ok to cry that you wouldn't care now we got a little three year old that talks about you like he knew you as much as we did. He tells you by when we pass the cemetery and he will kiss your picture. You would have had a ball with him. He's not as late back as the other two. He would give you a run for your money. Blakely has got so many of your ways! Cartwheels all the time! Your bedroom still has your smell in it and Michelle can't hardly sleep in there because she can smell you. On your birthday we sat down with the kids and watched your first birthday video and the kids laughed at u giving some of us a bit of your cake! Sweet sweet memories! 💕💕🕊

“ Our sweet Taylor we have misses you so much this week of our revival! That's when you made your own chose to serve God until the day you died and u done just that! Blake was testifying about u today that it was ten years ago that bro Micheal Clark held our revival and you made your start and bro Micheal held our revival again this year and he also talked about u in his sermon to the lost. Tears were flowing all over the church. My heart swelled up with great pride as they talked. Bro Micheal was saying how sad we all were but how easy it was to speak over u that dad because of the life u had lived. As he was so right you were a precious girl that we considered our daughter and Blake said today when he was testifying that you was his cousin but you were more like his sister that he was so proud of! He said you never took your eye off of your goal and you won it! We love and miss u soooo much but look forward to seeing you in heaven one day soon! Love stezie, Shelia, Blake, Michelle, Blakely, Lucas, and baby Barrett that u never meet but he knows you we show him your pictures and videos and when we pass the cemetery he will say high Tay Tay! So sweet.

Taylor, my precious baby girl, I miss you so much! 4 1/2 years has passed and I still miss you more each day. I use to question why you had to leave us so soon but then realized God picks only the best roses for his garden. I know you are in such a better place and you don't have to deal with some people trying to make you feel bad for things you wanted to do in life. You aren't torn between and don't have to try to please them anymore. God freed you from all the trials and dishonesty you had to deal with in your daily life. You always told me to let things go and I have tried so hard to. You have a little niece, Hadley that looks like you and has your ways even more. We talk to her about you all the time and she loves your Lee Middleton doll and takes such good care of it. She also has your teddy bear that Grandma Morris bought you when you were a baby. She loves to sing like you and Lindsay did and loves to sing into the karaoke machine when she thinks no one is watching...lol Scott often ask about you and still tells me he loves me to Heaven and back where Taylor is. You are my beautiful baby girl and always will be. I will have this emptiness in my heart until we meet again because a mother's love is like no love that has ever been and as I have talked to several mom's that have lost a child, no one and I mean no one knows the heartache we face each day of losing a child unless they have lost one of their own. Thanks for all your visits in my dreams for they are so precious to me. I love and miss you so much Mama's baby girl and I will until the end. <3 <3 <3

“ Taylor was a very special young lady who dated my very special nephew. She had such a sweet smile and a loving hug. If only I could have been with her more. Maybe the angels needed such a sweet smile to warm the Heavens in preparation for the rest of us. All my love to her, Jared and the family. She was loved and will be missed.
